PAYOUT FOR BABY DEATH

A GRIEVING couple has been awarded five-figure damages after Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital admitted to a catalogue of blunders which led to the death of their unborn baby.

Louisa and Jon Greenslade, of Harlow Common, claimed the hospital failed to act on blood tests which showed unusual levels of protein and glucose in Mrs Greenslade's system in the weeks leading up to the stillbirth of daughter Rowen.

Test results, which would have clearly highlighted the danger to the unborn child, went missing and there was no system in place at the time to ensure midwives had full access to them.

ed the hospital, but was told to go home, despite collapsing in pain in the car park.

When she became alarmed at a sudden lack of movement from the foetus the next day she contacted the hospital with her concerns, but was advised by a midwife to rest in bed.

The expectant mother returned to the hospital's labour ward later that day, when it was confirmed her unborn daughter had died.

The couple's solicitor, clinical negligence specialist Madeline Seibert of Attwaters, said the case served as a warning to all pregnant women over their antenatal blood tests.

"Pregnant women have every right and should have every reason to believe that their pregnancy is being managed smoothly and professionally by the medical staff involved, yet as a lawyer, I know that often there are flaws," she said.

"In particular, as in this tragic case, blood tests sometimes go astray. It seems that where the pregnancy is considered low risk, sometimes no great effort is made to try and trace them."

A PAH spokesman said the hospital had written a letter of apology to Mr and Mrs Greenslade and added that a number of improvements had been made to maternity facilities in the four years since the incident.

"We make every effort to ensure the safety and health of the 3,800 babies who are born in our maternity department every year," he said.

"As a result, the maternity unit is now ranked, independently by the Care Quality Commission, among the best units in the region for the quality of care it provides."

Your chance to comment on Hatch plan

BLUEPRINTS outlining design proposals for part of Harlow to be redeveloped will be subject to public scrutiny next week.

Developers will hold a public exhibition displaying plans for new shops and homes in Clifton Hatch ahead of a formal planning application being submitted.

It is hoped the consultation will iron out any last-minute concerns residents have with the drawings which will show existing shops replaced with new retail units and designs for 26 new homes.

Simon Carter, chairman of the council's policy and resources committee, said: "This consultation is an important opportunity for local residents to have a say in improving their area."

"The proposals will provide much-needed family homes and brand new retail units helping to regenerate Clifton Hatch."

"Comments from residents will help develop the designs further before a planning application is submitted."

The project is part of a major redevelopment plan by Harlow Council and Harlow Renaissance in partnership with Moat and Denne Construction, for Clifton Hatch, Prentice Place and Old Harlow.

Residents' feedback from the exhibition will be used to draw up detailed designs which will go on display at a second exhibition to be held next month.

The exhibition will be held at the Royal British Legion Club in Latton Common Road, Harlow, next Monday, from 3-7pm.

Residents terrified after stairwell fire

By LOUISE SASSOON

News Editor

sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The blaze broke out in the communal stairwell of the building in Morley Grove, Harlow, in the early hours of Tuesday morning.

Firefighters were called at about 1.14am and evacuated residents then launched search operation, leading a woman to safety and rescuing a young girl.

The flames were put out swiftly, but the incident has sparked concern among homeowners.

Sandra Mercer (50), who had to be treated at hospital for smoke inhalation, said she wanted to see the communal entrance made secure to prevent people walking in off the streets.

"We are open to attack again without having security doors in place," she said.

"It's not good enough. This has affected everybody living in these flats. We would all like to feel safe but we don't anymore."

She added: "Had it not been that we live so close to the fire station it might have been a different story. We had a really lucky escape."

A spokeswoman for Essex County Fire and Rescue Service said the incident was being investigated with police and added: "The four-storey building was heavily smoke logged and crews worked excellently to quickly extinguish the fire and prevent it from spreading."

"Approximately 30 people were evacuated from the flats and firefighters rescued a young girl who was passed to them by a resident through one of the windows."

This week, a spokesman for Harlow Council said the authority was looking at fitting the entrance doors to the Morley Grove flats with a lock.

"In addition, the council has recently completed a major review of its tower block fire safety plans and will shortly review flat blocks," he added.

"We will be looking at this recent incident at Morley Grove with the police as part of this review and making recommendations."

Anyone with information should call Harlow CID on 0300 3334444.

Annual show was credit to town

CONGRATULATIONS and many thanks to everyone involved in the planning and organisation of this year's Town Show. I was amazed at the amount of things to do and see. Everyone was having a good time, everywhere you looked people were laughing and enjoying themselves and it was a real tonic. It was all set out so well and I even returned later in the afternoon to see a tribute to my favourite band! And the bandstand had been freshly painted for the occasion! I am so pleased the sun shone for everybody: visitors and organisers and just wanted to say thank you for such a wonderful event and all free. Aren't we lucky in Harlow?

Pauline Moxham
Ladysnot, Harlow.

Plan needs inspection

SIR, Now the petty political squabbling around the fire in Berecroft has abated, as a community, I think we should express our thanks to the all the emergency services, all the volunteers that pulled out all the stops to be there when we need them, the council's emergency team and last, but by no means least, the local community, who proved once again that the people of Harlow are some of the most selfless and community spirited in the country.

I am sure that all the services involved would have taken on board any lessons that should be learned (if any), but there are some questions that still should be asked.

Why did the fire spread so quickly through the roof space?

From memory, as part of the Southern Regeneration Group, we set the specification for pitching the roofs of these properties and we insisted that double fire stopping should be installed between each property.

Who changed the spec?

The council before it sold off the estate? The housing association who brought it, the contractor who installed the roofs or was it 'just' poor contract management?

If the fire stopping is missing or substandard, who pays?

Can the residents that own their properties get property insurance?

Can homeowners who relet their properties continue to do so with such a potential deficit?

The council's emergency plan:

Worked well, but who pays for it? Do housing associations pay a contribution based on the number of properties they have in Harlow?

As the lead council officer and his team are mainly housing based, do housing pick up the bill or does it come out of the General Fund (Council Tax)?

Who pays the ongoing costs of (rightly) re-housing those affected? The lead council officer, who is now probably the only officer left in the town with the skills and experience to run such an operation successfully, does not live in Harlow, so what would have happened if the M11 had been blocked? What happens when he retires or is made redundant in one of the council's mad cost-cutting exercises?

Would all involved have been so successful if they had had to contend with the proposed hundreds of wheelee bins around the area?

Would those evacuated to the Latton Bush Centre, their relatives, friends and volunteers have to find coins to feed the proposed pay and display parking machines?

Come on Harlow Council, with the emergency plan, you have proved that you can do things right - so just concentrate a bit and start working with your residents and maybe you will start doing what we elect councillors and pay officers to do, run our town for the benefit of its residents.

Mike Carr
Rundells, Harlow.

School to get results

SIR, This year's GCSE results for local schools, especially St Mark's, are gratifying, but indicate a malaise.

Whilst not wishing to fan the embers of the Reformation, it is fair to say that St Mark's selects its pupils from regular church-goers. Good for them!

May I suggest that those of us who do not regularly attend church, but who have no less faith and maybe none at all, should have the option of our own 'selective' school. The selection criterion would be very simple - all homework to be done, school uniform to be adhered to and correct equipment obtained. Three hits and you're out! This would guarantee an even higher pass rate at GCSE (A-C) and maybe 60%+ straight As, who knows?

It would make Harlow a place to move to if you were worried about your child's education and solve one of the council's problems in that many work in Harlow, but commute there.

Much better this than the huge Brays Grove academy school, in the wrong place and which deprives the Passmore's catchment area of its own rightful school. Brays Grove closed for a reason - the words 'sand' and 'ostriches' spring to mind!

This is a task which could easily be corrected by our fairly-recent complement of brave and vociferous Tory county councillors. Now Harlow is nearly rid of the grey-leaden hand of Labour, this is the time to act!

It would have to have a trendy title, how about the 'Harlow Crammer School', with green blazers with yellow piping. Wow! Action this day!

Jim Pailing
Doulton Close, Harlow.

Petition for rents

SIR, That Conservative-controlled Harlow Council continues to resist accepting this Government's offer of considerable subsidy to halve planned rent increases for council tenants this year is a disgrace.

As you reported (Star, August 27th), of more than 200 local authorities in this country, Harlow Council is one of only three councils not to implement this.

But what more can we expect from a Conservative council? A council which has cut the budgets of the Leah Manning Centre, the advice centre, and local voluntary sector grants and increased parking charges across the town.

Over 85 per cent of those polled in my recent survey have said they support my campaign, that council tenants should receive the council's help this year in reducing rents.

This week the Harlow Labour Party launched a petition urging the council to reconsider. We will either see us in your local area shortly and you can add your name in person, or pledge your support on my website www.billrammell.com.

Bill Rammell MP

Thank you to staff

SIR, I'd like to take this opportunity to say a big thank you to the accident and emergency staff and a massive thank you to the heroes of Dolphin Ward at Princess Alexandra Hospital for their love, care, support and dedication.

Without them, my son would not have made such a rapid recovery from his illness.

Thank you, thank you, thank you!

Please keep our NHS!

Writers' invitation

SIR, I am inviting your readers to become involved in an exciting project for young writers and poets.

"One & Other" is a live artwork, running from July 6-October 14, by sculptor Antony Gormley. For 100 days and nights, participants are spending an hour alone on the empty fourth plinth in Trafalgar Square.

More than 33,500 people wanted to take part, and I'm lucky enough to be one of the 2,400 people selected.

As someone who works in marketing for schools and colleges, I want to use my hour as an opportunity to showcase the writing talent found in UK schools.

I'd like to read out at least 50 poems, or pieces of prose, written by pupils or students in full-time education - or by any UK teacher. You can write about anything you want.

Entries must be an original unpublished piece of prose, or poem, not exceeding 100 words.

The closing date for submissions is 12am on Wednesday 30 September. Entries must be submitted via a form on the www.themustardagency.co.uk website, where the rules of the competition can be found.

Shortlisted poems will be read out on Saturday October 3.

Average earnings lowest in region

AVERAGE earnings in Harlow are the lowest in the whole of the London Commuter Belt Sub Region.

And, while a vast majority of towns are seeing residents' average yearly income increase, the amount of money made by people living in the town per year is shown to have dropped in the last 12 months.

The findings are detailed in a report due to go before the council's housing committee tonight (Thursday).

It shows in 2008, the average income across the town was £21,324 compared to £21,106 this year – a drop of one per cent.

But in Brentwood, where the average annual pay packet residents can expect to take home this year is a whopping £40,531, the average income shot up nearly £4,000 from 2008, an increase of 11.5 per cent.

However, the report also shows the overall cost of homes in Harlow has dropped just 10.9 per cent from £193,500 last year to £172,375 this year – one of the lowest decreases in the LCBSR area.

Harlow is 'worst hit by recession'

HARLOW has seen one of the sharpest unemployment rises in the entire East of England, a shock report has claimed this week.

The town was picked out along with jobless hotspots Peterborough and Luton for being among the worst hit by the recession. Thinktank Insight East published the findings on Monday as part of a wide-ranging document dubbed the Recession Report, detailing how the economic downturn has affected the region.

It says 167,000 jobs are likely to be lost in the East during the recession, forecast to last until 2010, and that Harlow had seen up to a 2.5 per cent rise in claimant unemployment.

Glen Athey, director of Insight East said: "There is no doubt the impact of the recession-

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

sion has been severe and recovery will be sluggish from 2010 with unemployment continuing to rise in the short-term.

"The good news is that, based on our understanding of recent trends, the region may well regain those jobs lost by 2015 and that there will be more jobs than before the recession started in areas that the region is traditionally strong, including research and development and information technology, which are sectors that will power the economy of the future."

The report was funded by the East of England Development Agency (EEDA) and was compiled to help the region's key decision-makers plan for the future.

Harlow's MP Bill Rammell said he was aware of the situation, adding that the Government was committed to getting people in the town back to work.

"We know there has been a huge international economic downturn and Harlow is not immune from that," he told the Star. "The report indicates we can and will pull through, but we need government action to ensure this as quickly as possible."

"Nationally, the Government has made available £5 billion to help the unemployed and stimulate growth through measures like the Future Jobs Fund which will create 150,000 new jobs."

"Time and again, the Conservatives have opposed the extra £5 billion, and under this sort of policy it is exactly places like Harlow which would suffer."

Tory hopeful's concerns over power supply

POWER cuts could plague Harlow and the surrounding area in years to come because of a shortage of electricity, it has been claimed this week.

The town's Tory parliamentary hopeful Robert Halfon said Whitehall documents reveal Ministers have pencilled in power cuts of 3,000 Megawatt hours per year by 2017.

He says the plan to switch off supplies has been hatched because in the coming years many power stations will reach the end of their lives or have to shut because of EU law and the Government has failed to ensure replacements in time.

He claims the blackouts are most likely to strike at peak times and added that he is extremely concerned about the situation.

But Harlow MP Bill Rammell this week said Mr Halfon's interpretation of the Government document is alarmist, misleading and wrong.

"The plan actually states that the amount of capacity available to generate electricity is predicted to exceed peak demand – when demand is at its highest – by a margin of over 7 per cent in 2017," he said.

"The plan also makes provision for the longer term, with 10 giga watts worth of new energy projects being built now – enough to power some 10m homes – with another 10.5 giga watts more having received planning permission."

ME HEARTIES! Pheonix Theatre School presented previews of its latest production, Peter Pan: The Musical. Right, JB3 performed for the crowds. (Photos: HAR592202/592191).

Crowds flock to annual Harlow Show

SWASHBUCKLING pirates, Roundheads battling Cavaliers, fantastic live music and thrilling funfair rides – just a few of the reasons why Sunday was fun day for thousands of revellers at the annual Harlow Show.

Once again, the Town Park show-ground was transformed into a sea of marquees, hosting everything from exclusive previews of forthcoming Playhouse shows to exciting plans for the redevelopment of the town centre – and once again proud residents turned out in force to celebrate all things Harlow.

Highlights on the day included sneak previews of Phoenix Theatre School's spectacular debut show Peter Pan: The Musical in the Playhouse tent, a smouldering set of pitch-perfect Blondie covers from top tribute act Bootleg Blondie on the bandstand and a stunning re-enactment of a Civil War battle in full historical dress.

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment and community committee, said: "A huge amount of work goes into providing a great day out for all the family and I think this event lived up to expectations."

"There was a constant stream of people coming into the park throughout the day and many stayed on for the finale event on the Bandstand."

"The show provided a range of activities, many for free and some at low cost, which is important during these tough economic times."

New jobs are all sewn up at craft store

UP to 30 jobs have been created with the opening of an arts and crafts superstore as HobbyCraft swung its doors open in the Queensgate Centre today (Thursday).

Manager Beverly Robertson said: "While many businesses are struggling, HobbyCraft is bucking the trend as arts and crafts activities attract more and more participants and we're delighted to have created around 30 new jobs for the area."

Warren Haskins, chairman of the retail chain, is due to mark the opening of the store with the cutting of a ribbon this morning.

Visitors throughout the day will be able to enter a free prize draw to win a share of £500 worth of HobbyCraft vouchers to spend in the store.

More rail strikes

RAIL commuters in Harlow face further travel chaos after more strikes were announced by the train drivers' union Aslef.

The union said its members would walk out for a week from September 21 after they rejected a deal aimed at ending a long-running dispute over pay and conditions. The strike will hit services to Stansted Airport and Liverpool Street, via Harlow.

It is the latest in a series of walkouts coming after a string of 48-hour strikes in July and August by members of the Royal Maritime and Transport (RMT) Union and Aslef at National Express East Anglia.

Action is demanded on rent reductions

Boxing off graffiti problem

A SCHEME to tidy up the town's TV cable boxes has been roller-ed out in a bid to reduce graffiti clean-up costs.

The authority has teamed up with Virgin Media to launch the the Adopt-a-Box initiative, which will see residents sign up to repaint boxes near to their homes when they are tagged by vandals.

Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment and community committee said: "Unfortunately, our graffiti teams cannot be everywhere and so we want to enlist the help of the public in doing something about this problem."

For more information and to Adopt-a-Box in your area call the Community Safety team on (01279) 446655.

A TOWN-wide petition has been launched in a last-ditch attempt to pressurise council chiefs into passing on rent reductions to hard-up tenants.

Harlow is just one of three local authorities in England proposing to reject the Government's offer to reduce rent increases by more than half this year.

But this week, the town's MP Bill Rammell and other Labour Party members joined forces in an attempt to force a U-turn on the current stance.

Speaking to the Star, Mr Rammell said: "The news that Harlow is one of only three authorities across England set to refuse the offer has cast serious doubt on the council's claims that taking up this offer would cost too much.

"There are more than 200 local authorities in England and many are seen to be in a worse financial position than Harlow Council claims to be.

"The council always seems to have money to spend on things it wants to, such as wheelie bins, despite claiming to be in dire financial straits. I hope they will think again."

If the council signed up to the deal, it would see rent increases slashed from 6.1 per cent to 3.1 per cent.

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

But it has so far been reluctant to join up, claiming it would lose up to £420,000 a year because Whitehall can give no assurance the entire shortfall will be made up by Government subsidies.

The petition has already gained support from visitors to the Harlow Town Show on Sunday, where it was launched by Mark Wilkinson, leader of the Labour group on Harlow Council, Labour councillor Bob Davies and Mick Patrick, chair of Harlow Defend Council Housing.

More than 500 people surveyed by Mr Rammell are said to support the campaign.

This week, the council said it was committed to passing on the reductions, but was still trying to agree terms with the Government and had already tabled an alternative proposal to make up the alleged shortfall the rent reduction would create.

Lee Dangerfield, chairman of the council's housing committee, added: "We just want to find a way which doesn't mean we face cutting the services we provide to our tenants."

Osteopathy Now Available at The Rivers Hospital

Osteopath and Pilates instructor John Lancaster has been treating patient's pain for 10 years now with great results. Osteopaths have always been considered the experts when it comes to spinal back pain and now, after years of investigation, the NHS are recommending osteopathy spinal manipulation, and exercise as the best treatment for lower back pain. John explains that the key to healing people's pain in their back is 'having a balance' of strong but flexible muscles and joints, and the best way to accomplish this is to have John treat your muscles and back with massage and manipulation and perform a few simple exercises daily to strengthen and stretch the muscles and your spine.

What can you expect on your 1st visit to John Lancaster, Osteopath?

1. Friendly and professional at all times.
2. Thorough verbal and physical examination.
3. Advice and help.
4. John is present throughout your treatment. John gives his time and experience to you alone - No leaving the room to treat lots of patients at once.
5. Hands on treatment - No machines.
6. Diagnosis - John tells you what the problem is, and how we can solve it together.
7. Lovely surroundings at The River Hospital, clean and professional.

John Lancaster has been accepted as a specialist provider of healthcare by Bupa, AXA PPP, and all the other insurance companies. Alternatively he is also able to treat private paying customers. John now provides osteopathic treatment from two clinics, The River Hospital, Sawbridgeworth and The Maltings Dr Surgery, Ware. He explains that it is quite an honour to have Dr Kite and The River Hospital value his expertise and recommend his treatments.

Extra Easy

Slimming World has just got Extra Easy. In January Slimming World launched its 5th eating plan called "Extra Easy". It is a combination of the 'Original' and 'Green' plan and is based on the Young Members (11-15years) eating plan. Children come along free if accompanied by a paying adult and the results for the 11-15 year olds are amazing.

You won't believe the freedom it gives you to eat 'family-friendly' affordable meals and still lose weight. Members who are following the plan still can't believe it. "I feel this plan really is extra easy. I am never hungry and my whole family eats the same food" says Kim. "Before extra easy I was struggling and felt there was something missing but now I have been re-invigorated and so have my weight losses." says Elaine.

Extra Easy really is the plan for life. It will help you get to your ideal weight and just as importantly it will help you stay there. So why not join a Slimming World class near you & let Lesley, Donna or Ian show you how EASY Extra Easy really is! Come on - what are you waiting for? We are waiting for you.....

Fitness fun helps to fight the flab

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsexesnews.co.ukA MULTI-agency initiative to tackle obesity rates in Harlow has been such a success it has been rolled out to help more people fight the flab.

Weekly boxercise classes have been run by Harlow Council, Harlow 2020 and Hoggs Fitness during the summer.

But they have proved so popular that more sessions are having to be laid on to meet demand.

Harlow Council chairwoman Edna Stevens, who saw for herself what is on offer when she popped into one of the sessions, said: "It's always good to hear about successful activities and seeing so many people attending the boxercise sessions is excellent.

"I am delighted that by adding an extra session we are giving even more people the opportunity to take advantage of these fun fitness sessions.

"It's clear to see that everyone is enjoying themselves and I am pleased they can do it in a way that provides such excellent health benefits."

Last year the Star revealed the town's obesity levels were causing concern among health chiefs after official data claimed 27 per cent of residents were dangerously fat – three per cent above the national average.

The same figures, which were detailed in a health profile compiled by the Association of Public Health Observations, revealed only 8.5 per cent of the town's population was physically active.

It is thought boxercise is proving to be so successful because the exercises it incorporates are perfect for weight management and combating stress. It is one of the most effective forms of cross-training available, combining the use of both aerobic and anaerobic energy systems which also increase muscle tone.

From this week the boxercise sessions will be running every Wednesday from 6-7pm and 7-8pm at the Chinese Community Centre in Lower Meadow, Commons Road.

The classes cost £3 per session or £1.50 for C-category leisure card holders

St Elizabeth's Centre offers specialist care

ST Elizabeth's Centre, in Perry Green, Much Hadham, offers specialist care, education, learning and leisure opportunities for more than 220 children, young people and adults with epilepsy, autism and other complex needs.

Celebrating its 106th anniversary this year, St Elizabeth's is a registered charity administered by the English Province of The Congregation of the Daughters of the Cross of Liege. Although the charity has grown and developed over the past century, St Elizabeth's has retained exceptionally personalised services and the ethos of the founding Sisters is still very much in evidence.

Set in beautiful countryside on the outskirts of Harlow, St Elizabeth's benefits from being very much a part of the local community and enjoys the support of people from the neighbouring towns and villages.

The centre employs more than 600 staff and also attracts volunteers from around the world who live and work on site for up to 12 months, making a diverse and vibrant contribution to life at St Elizabeth's.

The Congregation still has a presence on site with a small convent and members of the religious community. St Elizabeth's also has its own chapel and Catholic chaplain, and welcomes clergy from other denominations and faiths in providing spiritual and pastoral support to its clients. St Elizabeth's Centre comprises a school, college and residential adult homes, all offering very different services with their own distinct premises, client groups, funding and staffing arrangements. They also work together within one overall centre, sharing a senior management team with corporate support services such as finance, IT, personnel, training, domestic services and grounds and property maintenance. This helps give a strong sense of belonging and community and a shared sense of purpose among all staff and volunteers working there.

There is an ongoing fundraising programme to provide new buildings, improvements, specialist equipment, day trips and holidays, for which the centre receives no statutory funding.

Ash Vale is a St Elizabeth's Social Enterprise project providing sheltered employment for residents of the centre with a 'therapy through horticulture' approach. Residents work growing and planting seedlings into indoor and bedding plants. They also plant tubs and hanging baskets and the extensive grounds are used to grow vegetables in raised beds to enable residents to do as much work as possible.

A bed of different varieties of willow has also been planted so that a range of products can be made by the residents, with assistance from skilled instructors and volunteers who help with the project. Certified as organic, Ash Vale is also recognised as a regional centre of excellence by Thrive (the national charity championing the benefits of gardening). The Ash Vale project has also received Investors in People accreditation and is an Approved Centre for the National Proficiency Tests Council City & Guilds Award.

Looking to the future and to provide new learning and leisure opportunities, St Elizabeth's is planning to restore its two-acre orchard and is asking supporters to sponsor a fruit tree.

Giving IT away

UNWANTED computers can be given a new lease of life in sunnier climes when a charity appeal comes to Harlow next week.

Computers 4 Africa collects computers and unused IT equipment which are then used to teach African children skills they otherwise would not have the opportunity to learn.

Anyone wanting to donate unwanted PCs, laptops and any other working IT equipment which is in working condition and less than five years old should take it along to the Wickes store in Prince's Gate, Edinburgh Way, next Friday and Saturday.

Walk this way

RESIDENTS are being urged to put on their walking shoes on Sunday and take part in a Harlow Alzheimer's Society's Memory Walk.

Every year hundreds of people take to the streets to raise thousands of pounds for the charity.

Last year the Memory Walk raised more than £10,000 but organisers hope this year's event will top that.

The walk starts in the public car park in School Lane, Harlow, at 11am. There will be different routes ranging in distance for people to choose from. All ages can take part and registration costs £5 per person or £10 for a group of four.

Cockatoo and snake stolen from Corner?

A JOINT investigation is under way after two animals are thought to have been snatched from Pets Corner.

Police and council chiefs launched the probe after a four-year-old sulphur-crested cockatoo called Topsy and a corn snake went missing from the Town Park children's attraction.

Two men and a pregnant woman were captured on CCTV breaking into the aviary at around 12.42pm on Thursday, then seen leaving with the bird, heading along a path towards Park Lane.

The snake, called Houdini, went missing the day before. He has a history of escaping, but staff say they cannot rule out he too was taken.

Dozens of worried residents have already joined a Facebook support group and left angry messages in disbelief at the news.

Carrie-Ann wrote: "I really hope poor Topsy is found soon and unharmed. What do these people think they can gain from this? Is there really a good price to be gained from a four-year-old cockatoo, I wonder? What a shame that, yet again, the actions of a few go to tarnish the reputation of Harlow."

Natalie wrote: "Who in their right mind would take these pets away from the children of Harlow? They should be ashamed."

Topsy is pure white with a yellow crest on her head and a metal loop on one leg. She says her name and is a popular attraction at the zoo.

Police have released descriptions of the people seen taking her.

The first man said to be in his late 30s, with receding black hair and long-ish sideburns, about 1.78m (5ft 10in) tall, with a tattoo on his left forearm. He was wearing black jeans, a blue hoody and tan loafers.

The second man is said to be in his early 20s, with light brown hair and a beard and was said to have been wearing jeans with a black belt, a white sweatshirt with writing on the chest and white trainers. The woman was also in her early 20s, with long dark hair, about six months pregnant and was wearing jeans, two hooded tops - one blue, one darker coloured - and open-toed sandals.

Anyone with information should call Harlow Police on 0300 333 4444, Harlow Council on (01279) 446655 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Museum now proud to exhibit extended learning credentials

HARLOW'S museum has shown itself to be at the top of the class for education visits by being awarded a Learning Outside the Classroom Quality Badge.

The badge is given to venues that provide activities and study opportunities for schoolchildren and students and impress judges in six areas including the quality of the learning.

More than 100 pupils a year visit the Museum of Harlow, based in Muskhams Road, to enjoy a range of educational activities.

Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, said: "We are delighted the museum has received this honour."

"Our staff and volunteers work hard to offer an excellent choice of education sessions and make them interesting and fun. The badge guarantees that the content of the sessions can be tied in with the curriculum and built on long after the visit."

"If they haven't already visited, I hope even more schools will take advantage of the chance to come and see what the museum offers."

BURNT MILL SCHOOL WITH WESTVIC*

BURNT MILL provides academic excellence in a caring community where learning counts and people matter. The school is characterised by a dedicated governing body, well qualified staff, impressive levels of achievement and opportunity, an excellent partnership with parents and a commitment to high standards of behaviour.

We are proud to be a Specialist College of Performing Arts, with Ofsted commenting on our 'first rate performing arts productions.' Our dynamic, innovative curriculum and impressive range of extra-curricular activities ensures that all students remain engaged, challenged and motivated throughout their unique 'learning journey'. This has led to the Ofsted comment that: 'the level of enjoyment seen in lessons and around the school is high'. Ofsted also described the tracking of academic progress as good and that in the very best lessons the use of assessment is outstanding. In 2008 our 5+A*- C GCSEs including English and Mathematics was 37 %, significantly above the Government target of 30%, and those achieving higher grades including functional English and Mathematics was 58%. We also received certification from the SSAT to recognise the fact that our 5 + A*- C results including English and Mathematics have improved year on year between 2005 and 2008 by ten percentage points or more. We stood at joint 21st out of the 153 schools listed as making this kind of improvement.

Most importantly, students are proud of our school; it is where 'student voice' really makes a difference. This pride has been reflected in the acquisition of national awards such as the Healthy Schools Award, Artsmark Gold Award, The International School Award, Sportsmark, Silver Eco Schools, Effective Partnership with Parents Award and we are members of the National Association for Gifted and Talented Children.

MARK HALL SCHOOL WITH WESTVIC*

We are a forward looking school with traditional values, developing the learners of today for the ever changing world of the future.

At Mark Hall School we believe that it is our purpose to create an environment where everyone is empowered to grow and develop as responsible citizens and lifelong learners. We are committed to developing the range of skills, knowledge, attitudes and understanding, of all members of our community. In practice this means that we aim to model and develop:

- Positive attitudes, dignity and respect for all
- Caring and supportive working environment for all
- High aspirations for all our learners
- A school which is safe, fair and honest
- A shared responsibility for learning with all our partners
- Engagement and enjoyment in all aspects of learning, leading to high achievement and personal success

The achievement of excellence in all that we do is at the heart of the school. Our positive partnerships, with parents and carers, promote the value of learning and ensure that all members of the community are respected and encouraged to make a positive contribution. We encourage all people to use their talents with pride and seek to improve in all that they do to realise their dreams and aspirations. We believe this to be true for students and staff alike.

Students, parents and inspectors tell us that they are pleased with the direction that the school is going in and are supportive of 'what we are about'.

OFSTED commented in this year's report that recent actions are having a "dramatic impact in raising the quality of teaching"

"Significant progress had been made thanks to the determination and strong strategic direction of a good Headteacher" OFSTED 2009

As a Specialist Sports College we have invested in a state of the art Sports Centre that has considerably extended the learning facilities for all of the community. This has allowed the school to offer an increasing range of activities, including specialised coaching and pathways into accredited clubs within the community. The diversity of the curriculum ensures that we engage all learners and create pathways to learning that promote achievement and success. The Sports College has been instrumental in driving forward this diverse experience for all the young people at Mark Hall.

This is an exciting time for you as parents and carers, but also for all the young people as they move from one phase of learning and education to another. It is important to us that you feel that we have the best interests of you and your family at the forefront of our work as a school community. We are excited to welcome you into our learning community where your child's learning today will make them a success in the world they will shape for tomorrow.

Every Child Every Chance Every Day

PASSMORES SCHOOL WITH WESTVIC*

Ofsted said that "Passmores School provides an outstanding education for its students. As a result, the progress they make in their academic work is outstanding." We are very proud of becoming the first school in Harlow to receive the top grade of 'Outstanding' from Ofsted and strive each day to 'Improve Upon Our Best'. We are a dynamic, forward-thinking centre of learning. Here the traditional values of self-discipline, good manners, hard work and respect are the foundation of all the school does. Passmores is passionate about learning. It offers the highest priority to teaching that excites, motivates and challenges all young people in a caring atmosphere, where achievement is valued and celebrated. All students are challenged to develop new skills, knowledge and understanding across all subjects. They develop greater confidence and self-esteem as they become independent learners and are given increased responsibility. We work equally hard with all students, with our able, gifted and talented programme being recognised for the quality it offers.

Passmores' designation as a Specialist School for Technology recognises excellence in science, mathematics, ICT, and design and technology. This has brought considerable investment in 'cutting edge' technology, which is used to make learning fun and to maximize attainment in all areas of learning. Although it specialises in technology, Passmores has an excellent reputation for the breadth and quality of its curriculum provision and we have been asked to support other schools in the development of their curriculum. Our innovative pastoral system makes Passmores a very different place to the norm, with students learning the importance of respecting and supporting each other.

Passmores aims to provide a 21st Century education to meet the needs and aspirations of all young people and we are delighted that we will be moving to our brand new £25 million school building, situated on the corner of the A414 and Southern Way, in September 2011. This will offer the young people unprecedented facilities and opportunities to further extend their learning. We have an amazing chance to take our school to the next level and look forward to sharing this with our new students.

ST MARK'S WEST ESSEX CATHOLIC SCHOOL WITH WESTVIC

St Mark's West Essex Catholic school serves the needs of young people in Harlow and Epping from Catholic backgrounds as well as practising members of other faiths. Close to the town centre, St Mark's provides continuing education from 11 to 18 years.

With a warm and friendly atmosphere, St Mark's offers an education based on Gospel values where high standards of achievement, behaviour and uniform are expected and accepted by all. Pupils achieve excellent results, with achievement above the National Average at both Key Stages 3 and 4; successful post-16 courses ensure clear progression routes for all pupils at 16, 17 and 18-plus. A purpose-built Sixth Form centre, a learning resources centre, and a planned Sixth Form extension building (to be completed in June, 2010) support the learning of over 270 Year 12 and 13 students taking A/S, Applied and A2 courses. Just over 300 students have received offers of places at university in the past 5 years.

St Mark's was designated a Business and Enterprise Specialist School in September, 2004, and offers a broad and balanced curriculum where challenge and enterprise and work-related learning encourage achievement. A specialist Business and Enterprise Centre was opened by the Secretary of State for Education and Skills in September 2005.

In the past five years, St Mark's has been listed in the 'Most Improved' top 100 schools for KS4 achievement on three occasions. With dedicated and hard-working staff who serve and care for your children, St Mark's remains a first choice school. In November, 2006, the Ofsted inspection team began their report with ... "St Mark's is a good school. It is a place where everyone is welcome."

STEWARDS SCHOOL WITH WESTVIC*

"STEWARDS School is a good school with outstanding features where every child matters a great deal." This is the opening line of Stewards' 2007 OFSTED Report which recognises the many positive features of the school. "Pupils achieve well as a result of excellent care, guidance and support systems allied to good teaching" where "the majority of lessons are good or outstanding."

Inspectors reported that "pupils are excellent ambassadors for their school, reflecting their outstanding personal and social development.... Their enjoyment of school is exceptional."

In 2009 the school was the first in Essex to achieve the Cultural Diversity Quality Standard Gold Award and in her report the assessor wrote:

"Students at Stewards demonstrate a secure sense of identity, self belief and self respect. They are confident, content, courteous and generous."

These comments reflect the importance that is placed at Stewards both on academic success and on developing pupils to become confident young people able to make a positive contribution to society.

Stewards is a Science Specialist School and considers itself to be in the forefront of innovative development in all areas of the curriculum with a strong focus on providing exciting and challenging lessons for all pupils. Stewards has received awards from the Specialist Schools Trust in recognition of the exceptional progress made by pupils during their secondary education, with Stewards placed in the top 5% of schools nationally between 2006 - 2008.

Stewards' partnership with pupils, parents and the community encourages excellence in all aspects of school life and this is evident when visitors come to Stewards. Pupils have a wealth of opportunities to take responsibility and to extend their learning. Stewards has received national awards such as the International Award, the Healthy Schools Award, Artsmark Silver, the Education Extra Distinction Award and the Sportsmark Extension Award in recognition of the broad programme of out of hours activities, clubs and trips available to pupils.

The facilities at Stewards are first class and further development is carried out each year. At Stewards you will find excellent ICT facilities, Science laboratories, a PE centre and swimming pool, modern technology rooms and a Performing Arts suite housed in bright and welcoming surroundings.

is the name for the new 6th Form Centre opening in September 2009 which is being run by all the schools in conjunction with Harlow College. In effect all Harlow schools featured in this advertisement now offer educational provision from ages 11-18

Cousins swing into action for charity run

GOING APE: Cousins Angela Rose and Kerrie Osborne are all set to take part in the Great Gorilla Run in London on September 26.

Photo: HAR592861

A CHARITY-minded resident is going back to her prehistoric primate roots as she takes to the streets of London dressed up as a gorilla.

Angela Rose, (27), of Long Ley, Harlow, will be going ape for the day when she does her bit for charity alongside her cousin Kerrie Osborne, (26), of Stackfield, by taking part in a seven kilometre fun run while wearing a fluffy black gorilla suit.

Angela said: "My cousin and I were thinking of ways to get fit and thought we may as well do it for charity. We came across the gorilla run on the internet and thought it would be a fun thing to do while raising money for a good cause. It is the first real run we have done."

The Great Gorilla Run is an all-costume fun run through London in which 1,000 participants dress up as gorillas while taking in the sights.

Each runner has to raise at least £400 before they can take part in the event, on September 26.

The event raises funds for The Gorilla Organization, which is dedicated to protecting every type of gorilla species and making sure their natural habitat stays intact.

Angela, a clerical assistant, said: "In training, we have been running 7k in an hour. We have been running a few times a week together, so we are hoping that this will be the time we do it in!"

If you would like to sponsor the girls on the Great Gorilla Run, email Angela on Angela.l.rose@hotmail.co.uk.

Can you identify anyone in these photos?

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THIS week we are asking for your help to identify the people pictured in these wartime photographs.

They were brought into the Star office by a reader who found them while clearing out the loft at her home in The Dashes, Harlow.

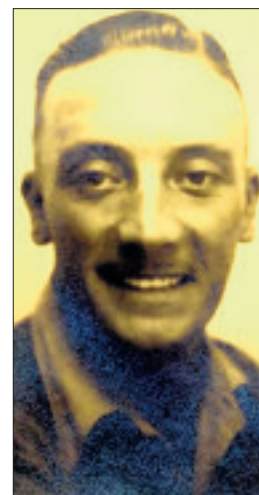

"I couldn't just throw them away," she said. "They are too lovely and I thought it would be nice to hand them back to one of the family members."

The only correlation between all five photographs is that they appear to feature the same man. One of them was taken in Venice in 1945 and is signed 'From your loving son Jack'.

Another was taken on his wedding day, although the location and date are not recorded, and the others appear to be Army photographs taken during the Second World War.

As well as the photographs, a luggage tag which bore the name 'Mrs Snook' - who could have perhaps been Jack's mother - was found.

"When I found the photographs and tag I took them to a lady in the road to see if she recognised who was in them or the name Mrs Snook but she didn't," said our reader. "She did say a family of the name Miller lived in the house before we moved in so perhaps they were related in some way."

If you can help to identify the mystery man or any of the other people pictured in these images, or know the relevance of the name Mrs Snook, then please write to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email louise.sassoon@hertsessexnews.co.uk. With any luck we will be able to reunite the photographs with their rightful owner.

A 28-year-old man has received a bravery award after he helped a woman who had driven her car off the quayside in Poole. Paul Harvey, of The Maples, helped keep the car afloat while rescuers dragged the woman to safety.

Fewer jobless

Harlow's jobless figure fell by almost 200 in August, the third consecutive drop. However, the figure has been attributed to 'seasonal factors'.

Wartime evacuation to keep children safe

THIS year marks the 70th anniversary of the start of the Second World War. For many people who were children back in 1939, it is a time to reflect on being separated from their families.

When politicians were sure that war was inevitable, they wanted to keep children as safe as possible from the threat of German air attacks by moving them out of the UK's cities and major towns.

It was thought that smaller towns and villages in the countryside were less likely to come under attack or be bombed once the war started.

The children, known as evacuees, were sent off to stay with new families in the country, often without knowing where they would end up or if they would even continue to live with their brothers and sisters.

Around one-and-a-half million people left cities in the first phase of the evacuation and, of those, an astonishing 750,000 were children unaccompanied by adults. By the time the war ended in 1945, around three-and-a-half million children had been moved from cities and towns to safer areas.

Last week 2,000 of these evacuees attended a remembrance service at St Paul's Cathedral in London.

Number of police officers still on the up

POLICE officer numbers in Harlow and across the rest of the county are continuing to rise, top brass have said this week.

In total, 500 bobbies have joined the ranks of Essex Police in the last five years, representing the biggest increase in officer numbers across the 43 forces in England and Wales.

The massive surge in recruitment has taken the number of policemen and women patrolling the county's streets to 3,600 – 16 per cent more than in 2004.

In the last year alone, an extra 239 police officers have been put on the streets, comprising 189 constables, 36 sergeants, 10 inspectors, three chief inspectors and one superintendent. Of those, 60 have joined the force since April this year.

Investment on this scale would have cost the taxpayer almost £11m, but the force found the money through cost savings, income generation and partnership funding.

Essex Police's temporary chief constable Andy Bliss said every division has received between 30 and 33 extra officers as a result of the changes.

Robert Chambers, chairman of watchdog the Essex Police Authority, praised the force. "By making savings in a number of areas, it has been possible to strengthen frontline services increasing visibility and reassurance," he said.

Homeowners' anger over cost of revamp

HOMEOWNERS living in former council flats have blasted expensive plans to renovate their block as "unfair and unnecessary".

Harlow Council told residents living at numbers 26-33 Ladyshot that major refurbishment works were needed to bring the flats up to scratch last month and sent households a breakdown of the estimated cost – which would see leaseholders forking out more than £8,000 each.

But scrupulous owner-occupiers were outraged to discover they would be expected to contribute towards security gates and balcony upgrades to be installed on the two ground floor flats – the only properties still owned by the council.

They were also shocked to realise the itemised estimate included costs for the repainting of sheds which were boarded up by the authority five years ago and balked at the £2,390.49 quoted for a new communal entry door without a security entry system.

Flat owner Sally Morley told the Star: "The amount of money they expect each household to fork out for this work is astronomical.

"What's more, those of us who own our flats are being asked to pay

By CHRIS MOSS
moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

towards extra work on the two ground-floor council properties, which none of us will benefit from.

"I understand that upgrades and maintenance works need to be carried out from time to time, but this seems so unfair and a lot of it is unnecessary."

But councillor Lee Dangerfield, chair of the authority's housing committee, said that all residents had been forewarned of the plans and had been given plenty of time to voice any objections prior to work starting.

"When we carry out repairs, we must consult leaseholders on the proposed work and ask them if they want to nominate contractors – there were just seven responses from 36 leaseholders," he said.

"Once tenders were received in March 2009, we gave the leaseholders details of the work and the estimates and allowed them a month to comment. Again, there were just seven responses.

"Once the tender is awarded, the leaseholders are again informed of the work and the cost and offered options for repayment."

Spooky sightings in the sky

BEWILDERED Star readers have spotted two mysterious unidentified flying objects hovering over Harlow neighbourhoods in the past week.

The first was seen by Ashworth Place resident Ken Doherty on Sunday night, who reported a glowing orange ball of light heading in a straight line towards Bishop's Stortford.

"Whatever it was it lit up the whole street," he told the Star. "I was absolutely gobsmacked – I just watched as it moved off towards Stortford. I've heard people dismiss sightings like these as Chinese Lanterns, but would something like that have lit up the street?"

Then, on Tuesday night, a resident of Kingsmoor Road, who asked to remain anonymous, spotted what she initially thought was a plane on fire on the Stansted Airport flightpath above her house.

Intercounty shortlisted for five industry awards

LOCAL estate agent Intercounty has made the shortlist as one of the finalists for five categories in the prestigious Estate Agency of the Year Awards.

Intercounty – which has branches in Old Harlow, Sawbridgeworth, Bishop's Stortford, Saffron Walden, Great Dunmow and Stansted Mountfitchet – has been shortlisted in the Estate Agency of the Year, Lettings Agency of the Year, Innovation Award, Employer of the Year and Leader of the Year categories.

The trophies will be presented at a glittering awards ceremony to be held at the Hilton Hotel in Park Lane, London, on November 11. Greg Young, managing director of Intercounty, said: "It's thrilling to be recognised by your peers for being a forward-thinking and proactive company and the team and I are delighted to have been shortlisted for so many highly respected industry awards.

"I look forward to collecting the awards on the night on behalf of my fantastic and hugely dedicated colleagues." Clare Bettelley, editor of leading industry publication Negotiator, said: "Intercounty have done brilliantly to get shortlisted from such a huge field, not just for one award but five!"

"Britain's estate agents are certainly having a tough time at the moment but this is an industry awash with talent, entrepreneurialism and creativity so we are delighted we will be able to organise a ceremony to award those firms that are delivering industry best practice."

House-hunters to receive special incentive package during New Homes Week

In support of New Homes Week (running 12th–20th September), leading house builder Persimmon Homes Essex is offering house-hunters the chance to receive a special incentive package to assist with the purchaser of their brand new home.

Neil Sykes, sales director for Persimmon Homes Essex, states: "New Homes Week is dedicated to supporting house-hunters with their purchase, whilst also highlighting the benefits of buying a brand-new property.

"One of the advantages of buying a new home is that by its very nature it's a blank canvas, ready to be styled and furnished in whichever way its new owners choose. By offering homebuyers who reserve their new property at one of our beautiful developments during New Homes Week either fully integrated appliances or a landscaped rear garden we are going some way to assist them in making their brand new house a home."

As an alternative, the company is offering its free interior design service with a leading design consultant and expert fitting service for all curtains and blinds, enabling homeowners to move in to their brand-new stylish property with ease.

Persimmon Essex is offering any one of the three options exclusively for New Homes Week at all of its Essex-based developments including:

- Bloomsbury Mews, Colchester
- The Cretings, Stowmarket
- Cedarwood Parc, Kesgrave
- Foresthall Park, Stansted Mountfitchet
- The Templars, Witham

- Cannons Meadow, Stanstead Abbots
- The Poppies, Little Dunmow

Interested parties are being urged to visit their nearest site during the week as there are only a limited number of special incentive packages available on selected plots only*.

For further information on the range of properties available throughout Essex during New Homes Week, please call 01376 518 811 during office hours or visit www.persimmonhomes.com

Brett dances his way to Broadway

By CHRIS MOSS

mossc@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A PROMISING young dancer is hoping to follow in the footsteps of his showbiz heroes after jetting off to the US to take part in a Broadway dance workshop.

Brett Shiels (20), of Ryecroft, Harlow, was offered an all-expenses-paid trip to New York by the top Stateside dancer and choreographer Tony Stevens after impressing the dance coach with a starring role in Colin's Performing Arts College's end-of-year show.

The starstruck youngster, pictured right, has spent the past two weeks rubbing shoulders with some of Broadway's elite and got the chance to take part in a series of intensive pre-rehearsals for forthcoming musical Over Here, in which he is all but guaranteed a role if it crosses the pond for a run in London's West End.

Although his New York experience was a far cry from the somewhat less glamorous setting of Harlow, Brett told the Star he owes much of his success to the training and support he received while a student of the town's Makin' Steps School Of Dance, in Parsloe Road.

"I was absolutely thrilled to get the chance to go to New York," he said. "I got this job through the work ethic I took to college, a work ethic that I learnt through my time with Makin' Steps.

"I am so thankful for everything they gave me and I believe I wouldn't have got to where I am today if it wasn't for the school and its level of professional training."

Despite his young age, Brett has already appeared in the music video for the Lily Allen single No Fear and starred alongside Cilla Black in a Liverpool pantomime production of Cinderella. Now he hopes his American adventure will open the door to a successful career in the theatreland spotlight.

"The 12 years I spent training at Makin' Steps really prepared me to take the next steps towards becoming a professional performer and I couldn't think of a better place to give you the opportunity to forge a career in the entertainment industry.

"It's up to me now to make the most of the skills I have learnt."

Pan cast preparing for take-off!

HIGH-flying youngsters from Phoenix Theatre School soared to success after they mastered the skilful art of stage flying in preparation for the fledgling group's spectacular stage adaptation of Peter Pan: The Musical.

Young performers Abigail Simpson (who plays Peter Pan), Amy Moulder (Wendy), David Ballard (John) and Jessica Keilty (Michael) earned their wings at an indoor flying masterclass tutored by renowned West End stage flight specialists Flying By Foy.

The training firm was founded in 1957 and has previously worked on the spectacular 2004 Olympic Games opening ceremony in Athens and with the cast of hit films Superman and Finding Neverland.

Former Playhouse manager and show director Phil Dale said: "We needed the flying to be believable and magical and Foy are the best in the world for doing just that.

"Adam Bailey [from Flying By Foy] was incredibly helpful and knowledgeable and has helped us create some truly jaw-dropping flying scenes that will amaze adults and children alike.

"I'm looking forward to hearing and seeing the audience's reaction when the four of them fly out of the nursery towards Neverland. It will certainly give us all a special thrill!"

Peter Pan: The Musical begins a week-long run at The Playhouse on Saturday. Tickets priced from £10 are available from (01279) 431945 or the theatre's website at www.playhouseharlow.com.

Culinary tale not quite cooked right through

new this week

JULIE & JULIA
certificate 12A, time 2h3m

MERYL Streep looks certain to secure a 16th Oscar nomination for her tour-de-force portrayal of an American cultural icon in the new comedy from writer-director Nora Ephron.

Based on two memoirs set more than 50 years apart, Julie & Julia is a frothy and entertaining tale of cuisine, l'amour and the art of killing lobsters.

As a film of two distinct halves, Ephron's confection is hopelessly unbalanced.

Scenes involving Streep in post-Second World War France are utterly delightful and every time she is off-screen, we hunger for more.

Present-day sequences headlined by Amy Adams, Streep's co-star in 2008's Doubt, are a mere amuse bouche in comparison, lacking the warmth or the depth of emotion that takes hold in late 1940s and early '50s Paris. Julia Child (Streep) is an inspiration to generations of women across the Atlantic.

She was the first American woman to study at the esteemed Cordon Bleu cooking school in Paris, and then introduced authentic French cuisine to the kitchens of her homeland, signing off her television show with the catchphrase, "I'm Julia Child. Bon appetit!"

Ephron's film opens in the French capital as Julia and her doting US diplomat husband Paul (Stanley Tucci) settle into new lodgings.

Blessed with an indefatigable spirit, Julia yearns for something productive to keep her amused. "What is it you really like to do?" asks Paul as they tuck into a hearty lunch. "Eat," replies Julia, with gusto.

So Julia flouts convention and attends Le Cordon Bleu, where teachers deride her initial efforts. Meanwhile, in 2002 New York, enthusiastic cook Julie Powell (Adams) feels emotionally worn down by her work for an organisation connected with the rebuilding of the World Trade Center.

She decides to work through all 524 recipes in Child's seminal tome, Mastering The Art Of French Cooking, in just 365 days and pen a blog about her exploits. Ephron cuts back and forth between the two storylines, contrasting Julia and Paul's rock-solid marriage with Julie's foundering relationship with her husband Eric (Chris Messina), who grows weary of his wife's obsession with rich sauces.

Julie & Julia rises like a soufflé thanks to Streep's portrayal of Child, whose distinctive, high-pitched voice was famously caricatured by Dan Aykroyd on Saturday Night Live.

She imbues the statuesque gourmand with pluck and vulnerability, and the chemistry with Tucci is irresistible as he toasts Julia at a dinner party with the heartfelt words, "You are the butter to my bread, the breath to my life".

Adams and Messina have to work much harder in their segments to win sympathy.

"I'm never going to meet her," whines Julie. "But you already know her," replies Paul soothingly.

Indeed, we feel like we do know Julia Child by the end of Ephron's film, which simmers nicely, but never quite comes to the boil.

certificate 15, time 1h52m

SISTERS are doin' it for themselves – covering up murder, that is – in Stewart Hendler's competent remake of the 1983 slasher The House On Sorority Row. A prank on the two-timing brother of a sorority member goes horribly wrong, and months later the girls involved are stalked by a killer in a black graduation robe, wielding the same weapon used to slay their friend.

The good-looking young cast includes Briana Evigan, Rumer Willis and Leah Pipes.

DISTRICT 9 Forget Transformers, Terminator Salvation, GI Joe and even the rejuvenated crew of the Starship Enterprise – the science-fiction blockbuster of the year has arrived. South African director Neill Klomkamp's feature debut is a heartbreaking morality tale about humanity's intolerance emerging from the arrival of an alien spaceship, augmented with state-of-the-art visual effects and a spectacular finale.

500DAYS OF SUMMER Marc Webb's quirky romantic comedy allows no happy ending for greeting-card writer Tom (Joseph Gordon-Levitt), who falls for his boss's new assistant Summer (Zoeey Deschanel). As the 500 days of their relationship unfold, Tom comes to realise that while Summer might be perfect for him, he's not her 'Mr Right Now' or even her 'Mr Right Ever'. It's a haunting tale of relationship woes, with two strong lead performances.

FUNNY PEOPLE Adam Sandler stars as a stand-up comic turned film actor who finds out he has leukaemia, and hires Seth Rogen to pen him gags. After surprisingly recovering, he seeks out an old flame (Leslie Mann), who is married with kids.

ALIENS IN THE ATTIC Adventure/comedy about kids on a family holiday who must fight off an attack by knee-high alien invaders with world-destroying ambitions while at the same time doing their best to keep their parents in the dark about the battle upstairs.

G:FORCE (3D+2D) Light-hearted mix of live action and digital trickery which follows a team of guinea pigs recruited to covertly fight terrorism.

ICE AGE 3: DAWN OF THE DINOSAURS Sid the sloth is taken to a subterranean kingdom after stealing dinosaur eggs and his friends begin a rescue mission.

Scrap happy

YOU'RE likely to be seeing an awful lot of shiny new cars on the roads this month thanks to the launch of the new 59 registration plate and the Government's scrappage scheme, which offers buyers the opportunity to save £2,000 on a new car when they trade in a vehicle that's over 10 years old.

The £300m scheme, which will continue until next March or until funding runs out, was introduced by the Government in this year's Budget in a bid to protect the motoring industry from the ravages of the recession, and signs are that drivers are taking the plunge and treating themselves.

Why there's never been a better time to buy a new car

And with a VAT increase looming and dwindling funds soon set to make the scrappage scheme history, there's never been a better time to invest in a new car.

Vauxhall is offering a further £560 Scrap & Save discount on the Corsa 1.0-litre Life three-door model with a scrappage trade-in, bringing the total discount to £2,560 and the car's on the road price down to just £7,695.

If you're in the market for a Meriva 1.4 Life, Vauxhall's five-seat mini-MPV, and the deals get even better. On top of the £2,000 scrappage for their old banger, buyers will get an extra £3,155 discount, reducing the bottom line to just £8,295.

The biggest saving of all, however, can be found on the Astra's 1.4 Life model. The best-selling, British-built five door hatchback can now be bought via the scrappage scheme for £8,995 on the road – a total of £6410 off this model's normal price.

The response from the public seems to have surprised even the staff at dealerships. There are some superb offers available at the moment, making now a great time to pay your local new car showroom a visit and find out just how much you could save.

Vertu/Bristol Street Motors is first group to be SAF approved

VERTU/Bristol Street Motors plc – one of the largest motor retailers in the UK – has been awarded SAF Approved status by the Finance and Leasing Association (FLA) in recognition of its commitment to raising standards of knowledge on motor finance for the benefit of their customers.

Vertu Motors is the first dealer group to become SAF Approved. Specialist Automotive Finance (SAF) was launched by the FLA to raise standards and improve knowledge in showrooms and increase customer confidence in finance.

SAF-certification has been available since October 2007 to individual dealership employees and around 7,000 have passed the free-of-charge online SAF competence test. "SAF Approved" was introduced on August 1 to award to companies who have voluntarily improved the finance knowledge of their staff.

Over 370 employees have passed the SAF test at Vertu/Bristol Street Motors – and 39 dealerships are SAF Approved. To become SAF Approved all of a dealership's staff who talk to customers about finance must have passed the online competence test.

The test asks questions on the finance products available in showrooms and surrounding regulation.

Despite difficult market conditions, FLA statistics show that finance sold in dealerships is the most popular way to buy a car, with over half of customers turning to dealer finance. SAF helps dealers to further increase customer awareness of motor finance.

Paul Harrison, head of motor finance at the FLA, said: "Congratulations to Vertu/Bristol Street Motors. I am delighted that one of the biggest retail groups has recognised the benefits of SAF Approved and I expect many others to follow suit."

"All SAF Approved dealers are sent a welcome pack to help them promote their achievement to customers. Having the SAF logo in showrooms and on advertisements will be a real advantage in generating interest on finance."

Peter Stewart, director of business development for Vertu/Bristol Street Motors, said: "We have supported SAF since day one and are thrilled to be the first SAF Approved group."

"We believe this will benefit our company, managers, sales executives and, most importantly, our customers through better information on finance."

"At Vertu/Bristol Street Motors we are dedicated to training and improving our knowledge and SAF supports this objective. SAF Approved is easy to apply for, is free of charge, and will deliver real benefits for colleagues and customers. The SAF system has given my colleagues the ability to develop their skills and improve the level of service given to customers."

BE A MULTI-SKILLED ENERGY ASSESSOR

Regardless of the recession, a new European Directive now legally requires an estimated 2.5 million homes and commercial properties being rented, sold or built to have an Energy Assessment this year alone. And more 'green environmental' laws are coming!

For example next year nearly every commercial property with air-conditioning must have an Assessment before the January 2011 deadline.

Applicants are therefore required to train now as multi-skilled 'Property Professionals' to carry out commercial and air-conditioning Energy Assessments and many other roles such as Flood and Fire Risk Assessments, Energy Audits, Insulation Surveys, Property Valuations, Home Condition Reports, Public Buildings Assessments etc.

No previous experience is necessary, training to join this new growth industry can usually be taken around current job at our nationwide training centres approved by the Government-appointed Awarding Body for the Built Environment and is subsidised. On qualifying start your own energy business, work for other Assessment Providers or be available for potential full or part-time work through our Energy Assessor Panel with earnings of £50 to £1,500 per Assessment.

Seventeen golds for fantastic Penguins

AN impressive haul of 17 gold medals was secured by Harlow Penguins Swimming Club.

Nineteen swimmers swam in the Hoddesdon 2009 open gala on Saturday.

Along with the golds, Penguins sealed seven silver and four bronze medals, while 10 received certificates for achieving personal bests.

The highlight was from Danny Chan (14), who claimed gold medals in the 200m freestyle, 50m breaststroke and 50m butterfly.

John Reynolds (14) also scooped three golds. These were in the 200m individual medley, 200m butterfly and 200m breaststroke.

Georgia Andrew (13) was first in the 50m and 200m breaststroke.

Luke Guerrati (12) knocked seconds off three previous personal best times.

Novice gala swimmers also picked up their first medals.

Golfer Steve's a boy for Brazil!

CANONS Brook golfer Steve Jones is aiming to finish in the top three when he competes in the Faldo Series Junior Championships in Brazil next month.

The 17-year-old, pictured right, qualified after he won a regional event at Brocket Hall near Hertford in July.

Temperatures will be high but Jones, of Sawbridgeworth, will have the experience of a third-place finish in the coveted Daily Telegraph junior tournament last autumn to draw on.

He said: "It will be hot [in Rio de Janeiro] and the Abu Dhabi experience will be useful for me.

"The greens will be quicker than they are over here and I aim to finish in the top three. I have had my ups and down this year but it's good to get there."

The youngster, who has been a member of the Harlow golf club since he was a small boy, feels his game has improved hugely.

He is currently studying A-levels in business studies, ICT and French at Leventhorpe School and hopes to go to university in America.

"My long game has improved and I have got stronger over the last year. I work out in the gym at Leventhorpe School twice a week," he said.

"My aim is to get to a university in the USA and play for a golf team there. That will be good for the CV."

Jones came 30th in the Carris Trophy (a four-round competition at Moor Park in July) and won the men's club championship at his local club, Canons Brook in Harlow, by three shots.

He has also won four of his five matches playing for Essex U-18s this year.

Jones hopes to help Canons Brook win the Thornton Plate final against Warley Park at Crondon Park Golf Club on Saturday September 26.

After being knocked out by Orsett in the first round of the Thornton Cup, Canons Brook had a bye in the first round of the Plate.

Canons Brook won 9-1 at Stapleford Abbots in the second round, thrashed Bentley 9-1 in the last eight and then overcame Burnham-on-Crouch 8.5-1.5 in the semi-finals. Jones has won all his matches in this season's competition.

Boss rethinks player cull Romaine is ready

THE combination of injuries and unavailability has prompted Hawks boss Anthony Anstead to rethink his decision to cut seven players from his squad.

Anstead has released left-back Tom Query and plans to axe another three players today (Thursday).

He explained: "We have injuries [defender Liam Thomas and forward Gavin Taylor] and suspensions [including a three-game ban for midfielder Herve Malimabue]."

Anstead was tight-lipped about who he would release and said he was looking at two players coming in, but refused to name them either.

The Hawks got their first point in four league matches at Waltham Forest on Saturday but created enough chances to have taken all the spoils.

Saturday's match came four days after Harlow's disappointing FA Cup exit.

The Hawks were managed by assistant manager Glynn Mason. Boss Anstead was away due to a family illness.

New signing striker Ashley Taylor-Forbes started for Harlow as did new midfielder Mark Gradosielski. Both are on a dual registration with Bishop's Stortford FC.

Daryl Doolan nodded over the home bar on 15 minutes, before Waltham Forest went ahead nine minutes later.

Malimabue handled a cross from Andre Humphrey-Modeste. Luke Stanley slotted the loose ball into the net but the whistle had already been blown for a penalty which was tucked home by Daniel Gabriel.

Harlow were awarded a penalty on 66 minutes when substitute James Edgerley drove into the home box and was brought down by Forest defender Spencer Harrison.

Jason Mason stepped up to fire the spot-kick to the right of Forest keeper Sam Tanner to make it 1-1. Five minutes later, Edgerley set up Taylor-Forbes but he fired wide.

Mason said: "We could have won but we defended better than before. Mark Gradosielski had a really good game. It was his first full [first team] game for more than a year.

"He did the donkey work in midfield and allowed Jason Mason to play."

Harlow players Michael Pelley and Mark Clarey were booked for fouls.

HARLOW TN: Waite, Pelley, Clemo, Malimabue, Clarey, Gradosielski, Taylor-Forbes, Mason, Ositola, Doolan (Akinnawo 65), Ferrari (Edgerley 65). Subs not used: Manangu, J. Edwards, G. Edwards. Att: 146.

SCOTT Romaine believes the pressure of the Harlow captaincy can help him forget about his comeback from an 18-month injury-lay-off when the Rams host Romford & Gidea Park in their opening league game this Saturday.

Saturday's London division two north east match will see Romaine play in his first league match for 18 months.

Romaine suffered a compound ankle fracture when Harlow played against Romford in March 2008.

Both the tibia and fibia had metal plates inserted which were taken out earlier this year.

The 25-year-old flanker, who has taken over the captaincy from Paul Eynon said: "It's good that I have the captaincy to focus on I so will not be thinking about what happened last time.

"People will make mistakes but what I want from my players is commitment and aggression."

He added: "I would like to finish in mid-table at least and I think we have a good balance of younger and older players."

Harlow rounded off their pre-season preparations with a 27-0 home win against Canvey Island five days ago.

Try scorers were Simon Vanbeck (3), Luke Bowering and Rob Mackie. Sean Banks kicked one conversion.

Floodlights failure means Hawks could face fine

Carol Bothwell, the Hawks chief executive, said: "The generator had got water in it and it kept cutting out the power.

"We are sorry for the fans for what happened. Vouchers have been issued for the fans to come the rescheduled game for free."

Hawks boss Anthony Anstead said: "We are guilty of the offence. I would imagine the club would seek to get the fine back from the generator company. It was the fault of a piece of equipment."

The match may be rescheduled for next Tuesday.

By the time the lights went out for a second time, Harlow had already conceded two sloppy goals on nine and 18 minutes.

Concord went ahead when a long through ball was headed backwards by Hawks defender Jeffrey Imudia and it fell loose for Steve Butterworth to run onto and round keeper Jamie Waite before tucking home.

Anstead claimed that Imudia was pushed by a Concord player and felt a free-kick should have been awarded to Harlow.

Terrible defending then saw Gary Edwards under-hit a back pass and Butterworth latched onto it and clipped the ball over Waite and into the net.

HARLOW TN: Waite, Clemo, Imudia, Clarey, G. Edwards, Pelley, Akinnawo, Taylor-Forbes, J. Edwards, Mason, Edgerley. Subs not used: Osei, Ositola, Doolan, Ferrari, Green.

No more soggy winter pitches!

FAIRWAYS Sports & Social Club has been boosted by drainage work to improve its pitches.

Several teams play at the Parsloe Road site in Harlow.

The project hopes to cut the number of grassroots games lost to waterlogged pitches during the soggy winter months.

Revenue from the Essex County Council Sports Legacy Fund funded the project.

Robins defeated

THE Robins' unbeaten Essex Senior League record was taken as Peter Wickham's men lost 4-2 at Basildon United on Saturday.

Ashley Conland and sub Rob Norris replied for Sawbridgeworth.

Sawbo also went down by the same scoreline in an Essex Senior League Cup group match at Barkingside on Monday.

Wilson quits as Sawbo skipper

DANNY Wilson, right, has quit as skipper of Sawbridgeworth Cricket Club's first team after six years at the helm.

Sawbo finished 8th in the 10-team league, narrowly missing relegation.

They lost by 10 wickets in their final Home Counties League division two east match on Sunday.

Sawbo (112) were only able to field nine players due to injury and unavailability as West Herts (113-0) – who had only 10 – cantered home.

Wilson (32) said: "In the last three years I have not seen an improvement.

"I had high hopes after we came second in my first year but we have drifted.

"Some of our performances do not reflect the ability we have."

"It's difficult to keep trying to motivate the same players. What happened [at West Herts] made up my mind for me."

Wilson, from Old Harlow, is unsure whether he will play on in the first team. "I have yet to make my decision on what I want to do. I have to re-evaluate it," he added.

Billy, be a hero

Youngster seals gold at UK Schools Games

BILLY Falconer produced a fantastic effort to scoop gold at the UK Schools Games in Cardiff at the weekend.

The 16-year-old, who has just started a sports science course at Harlow College, was representing the East Region.

He sealed a fine victory in the boys high jump to add to his All-England Schools Championships title which he won in July.

Former Olympic champions including Denise Lewis, Sally Gunnell and David Hemery watched Falconer's exploits at Wales' international stadium.

Billy rose to the occasion in superb style.

Conditions at Cardiff were not ideal with wind and rain affecting the jumpers.

Essex county athlete Billy won on countback from Jordan Roach (West Midlands) following a leap of 1.93 metres.

Welsh athletes Adam Davies secured bronze in front of his home crowd.

Essex Athletics spokesman John Stow said: "It was a proud moment to see Billy collect his winners' medal from David Hemery [the 400m hurdles Olympic gold medalist at Mexico City in 1968].

"Billy has had a brilliant season and won the two major titles he really wanted to win.

"He will go into his winter programme knowing that next year he will want to be jumping well over two metres."

At Woodford last Tuesday evening in an open meeting, Mark Hall's Tyler Bown (14) picked up two PBs.

He placed 5th in the 100m in 12.27s and won the 400m in 55.56s.

St Mark's School student Tom Richards produced a massive throw of 49.05m to win the competition.

Sisters Phoebe and Sophie Fuhr (Burnt Mill) also ended their seasons with PBs.

Phoebe ran 12.11s over 75m, winning her U-11 age group race.

Sophie clocked 13.2s, placing third in the 100m.

Skipper's praise for trio after last game

Harlow 191, Buckhurst Hill 192-6

Harlow lost by four wickets

Shepherd Neame Essex League, division two

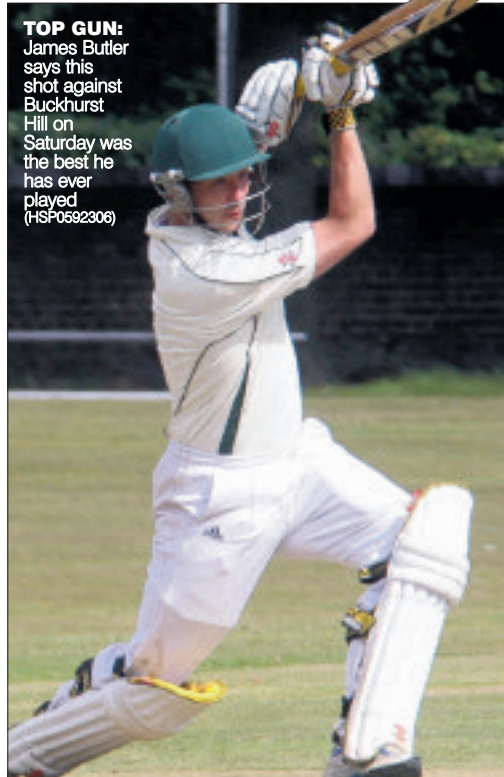

HARLOW'S season ended on a low note with a home defeat to Buckhurst Hill as they finished in fourth spot after being third for much of the campaign.

Skipper James Butler praised three players in particular for their efforts this term – batsman Rehman Ahmed, all-rounder Jason McNally and 19-year-old seamer Luke Heskett. Butler said: "Rehman has promised much for a couple of years and this was the season that he started to put the scores on the board and next year I hope he will push on to make the hundreds his ability should bring.

"Jason proved to be a fantastic addition to the club. Despite an awful hand injury he only missed a couple of games and was just brilliant all year in the field, with the bat and with the new ball.

"Luke has been stymied by the ECB [England & Wales Cricket Board] only allowing him to bowl seven-over spells [because of his age]. I suspect he will be looking forward to bowling some long spells next year now he has turned 20. He also batted very well twice."

TOP GUN: James Butler says this shot against Buckhurst Hill on Saturday was the best he has ever played (HSP0592306)

Butler elected to bat after winning the toss against Buckhurst Hill.

After Heskett went early to leave Harlow on 18-1, James Butler (45) and Ahmed (39) added 66 for the second wicket before Harlow slipped to 120-5.

It needed useful knocks from Iain Nuttall (32) and Lee Jessey (27) to ensure Harlow mustered 191 before they were bowled out.

Nilesh Modhwadia then dismissed both visitors' openers to leave Buckhurst Hill on 25-2.

However, Ian Russell made a defiant 55 and Josh Peter chipped in with 26 before home wicket-keeper James Butler took a sharp stumping off McNally to remove Jamie Allen for 16.

Buckhurst Hill were guided to victory by an unbroken stand of 36 for the seventh wicket between Russell Beckett (36 not out) and Ricky Reynolds (7 not out). In the 2nd XI division one championship, Harlow (106) were thrashed by 155 runs at Loughton II (261-7) and were relegated in bottom spot.

In the third XI division one, Harlow (154) lost by 107 runs against Wanstead IV (261). They finished 7th.

'I still respect shamed rugby star'

FORMER England rugby international Tony Underwood revealed his dismay at ex-Leicester Tigers and England colleague Dean Richards and his part in the 'Bloodgate' fiasco at Harlequins – but will not let this diminish the regard he has for him as a player.

Speaking at the Harlow Rugby Club annual sponsors' dinner, Underwood, who now lives in France, told Star Sport that he was a team-mate of Richards during the 1990s.

match against Leinster last season.

Speaking after he presented the prizes at Rams Gorse, Underwood said: "I am not involved in rugby anymore and can only go by what I read in the papers.

"It's a big surprise and a big disappointment. It will not impinge on my memory of him as a player or as a captain."

Underwood, who is a close friend of former Rams skipper and current Leventhorpe School headteacher Jon Locke, was among more than 100 people at the dinner.

Prizes were presented to rugby club members for their work behind the scenes.

Andy Bradnum (chairman of youth section) was presented with the Ken Spooner Award while women's team captain Kelly Cotterill picked up the Hurley Award. The awards for given for exceptional service and are named in honour of late former club members.

Ken Potter, who has served the club in several roles, was presented with the Presidents' Award, while first team player Paul Eynon – who has played more than 250 games for the club – were recognised for his hard work.

Eynon has also served on the club executive and does a lot of work for the club website.
